Applications Developed

Let's Parlay - Live
- Developed a Full-stack virtual sports book, where users can try online sports betting for the first time using React, Typescript, Tailwinds CSS and Vite.
- Leveraged React Router for efficiently navigating the site. Fetched live sports betting odds from the-odds-api to create a live list of events and matchups that users can choose from to make either straight moneyline or parlay bets using $5,000 of virtual funds provided by the app
- Built the backend using Express and used pg as the PostgreSQL client library
- Implemented authorization using JSON Web Tokens and Argon2 password hashing for enhanced security

Defi-City - Live
- Created a React/TypeScript app leveraging the CoinMarketCap API to display live cryptocurrency prices and statistics, ensuring type-safe data handling and reducing runtime errors.
- Implemented a feature allowing users to create and manage a watchlist of cryptocurrencies, utilizing React hooks for state management and React Router for seamless navigation.
